SOCIETY.

(Written for last issue.)

Mrs. James McCaughsin and Miss Lucy McCaughsin entertained very delightfully Wednesday afternoon in honor of a charming bride-elect, Miss Sara Houseal. The occasion being a miscellaneous shower, given as a surprise to Miss Houseal. The gifts were placed in a little express wagon, drawn by Lewis Floyd and Albert McCaughsin, and driven by little Miss Margaret McCaughsin. After the dainty packages had been opened by the honoree, the guests were invited into the dining room, which was beautifully decorated in pink roses and candle sticks holding pink tapers. A delightful salad course was served and coffee was poured by Mrs. Walter Hunt. About thirty-six guests were present.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week was the bridge party with which Miss Eva Goggans complimented Miss Sara Houseal, a popular bride-elect. Besides the members of the Once-a-Week bridge club, a number of other guests were invited. At the conclusion of the game a very delightful salad course was served. The honoree was presented with a useful gift, as a souvenir of the occasion.

One of the beautiful social events of the week-end was the Linen Shower given by Miss Lissie Mae Boozer at her beautiful suburban home given in honor of Miss Bess Kibler the "bride-to-be" of the 20th of October. The parlor was beautifully decorated in pot plants and golden rod. The color scheme being pink and yellow. The guests enjoyed music and chat for an hour. Then Miss Bess was showered by Miss Lissie Mae Boozer with a cone of plenty, of most beautiful and useful linen, with best wishes from her music and Sunday School classes. At 5:30 delightful pink and white, ice cream and cake and afternoon mints were served by little Miss Pauline, Nannie Laura and Sara Boozer. Those present were: Misses Bess Kibler, Julia Kibler, Ruby Goggans, Sadie Towers, Mrs. Tom Johnson, and Mrs. P. E. Way, Misses Marie and Ruth Schumpert, Mary Alice Suber, Clara Sligh, Ola Cromer, Janie Bell Pay-singer, Vera Derrick, Essie Robertson, Haynie McGraw, Frances Caldwell, Sophie Nell Crotwell, Edna Sanders, Edith Wilson and Lissie Mae Boozer.

REPORT OF LAST YEAR'S WORK OF THE W. C. T. U.

(Written for last issue.)

Our union has had charge of the rest room at the depot for the past several years. This year we furnished a new art square, and frame to the picture of Frances Willard, the picture the gift of Mrs. Workman. She also gave a new rack to the waiting room filled with literature. Frances Willard's picture was also placed in the superintendent's office in the high school.

Mrs. Banks of the Newberry Mill village was helped to the hospital in Columbia. Delicacies were furnished to our soldier boys on the border, particularly grape juice. Floral tribute was sent to Mrs. M. A. Carlisle's funeral, and the living have been remembered when sick or in need with flowers, jellies, etc. Five primary teachers of the city schools were sent The Crusader Monthly to impress temperance sentiment on the little folks, in accordance with our temperance societies' motto: "Agitate, Educate, Organize."

The W. C. T. U. county convention was held in September in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. An interesting program of recitations, readings, solos, etc. was given by the young people in the afternoon, and an address by Dr. Geo. B. Cromer at night to a crowded house.

Posters having temperance mottoes such as "Which will you support, the home or the saloon?" "Vote for the boys," "Vote dry," were placed in store windows just before the election for State and county officers. Tags with boy's pictures and motto: "Home against the saloon" were pinned on both men and women at that time also.

Mrs. A. J. Bowers.

Meeting of the W. C. T. U.

(Written for last issue.)

A literary and social meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at the residence of Mrs. Mary Wright in College street, Tuesday afternoon the 17th.

Included in the invitation were the ministers and their wives, the graded and high school teachers, besides particular friends of the members of the union. (We were so glad to see by the numbers present how temperance sentiment is growing.)

The literary programme on "Scientific Temperance Instruction" was led by Miss Sadie Bowers. Two very edifying and interesting addresses were given by Rev. E. V. Babb, pastor of the Baptist church, and Dr. Jas. P. Kinard, superintendent of the city schools. The solo, "Where are the friends of my youth?" sung by Miss Carolyn Caldwell, accompanied by Mrs. E. E. Williamson, pianist, was thoroughly appreciated.

During the social half hour, which was thoroughly enjoyed, iced tea and cakes were served.

Officers for the ensuing year are:

Mrs. J. Sidney Derrick, president; Mrs. A. J. Bowers, vice-president; Mrs. H. L. Parr, corresponding secretary and treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Carson, secretary.

Department officers are: Miss Sadie Bowers, scientific temperance; Mrs. Mary Wright, unfermented wine; Mrs. J. M. Workman, literature; Mrs. W. G. Houseal, medical temperance; Miss Eva Gary, white ribbon recruits; Mrs. E. E. Williamson, mothers' meeting; Mrs. J. W. White, flowers mission; Mrs. A. J. Bowers, press reporter.

NAVAL RECRUITING AGENT VISITS HERE

(Written for last issue)

Electrician J. E. Taylor of the United States Navy, on duty as recruiting agent at Columbia, visited Newberry Thursday to advertise the navy and talk to possible applicants. The station at Columbia has been opened but a short time and to date has enlisted six men. About fifteen others have been rejected for underweight and other physical defects.

It is the intention of the office to visit outlying towns in the State as often as possible, to examine men for enlistment. Upon such visits the recruiting officer (S. C. McArthur, C. B. M.) will make his headquarters at the Post Office. Notice will be given in the local papers regarding dates, etc.

The Republicans.

(Written for last issue.)

The Republicans of the Third Congressional district met in Greenwood on Wednesday for the purpose, among other things, "of deciding what to do about nominating a candidate to oppose Fred H. Dominick." There was no nomination. The delegates from Newberry were: G. C. Williams, T. A. Williams, J. E. Thomas, H. B. Rikard, W. W. McMorries. Alternates: J. B. Embury, W. A. Nance, O. L. Singleton and W. A. Cooper. G. C. Williams was chairman of the delegation. H. B. Rikard was chairman and J. B. Smith was secretary of the meeting in Williams' hall Tuesday when the above delegates were elected to the Greenwood convention.

The Smoke of Men Who Win

A fresh-rolled "Bull" Durham cigarette almost says "Speed up!" right out loud. Keen-eyed, clear-headed fellows smoke "Bull" Durham because it has the sparkle and the "punch"—the youthful vim and vigor. Every time you "roll your own" with "Bull" Durham you open the door to Hustle.

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO

"Bull" Durham is unique among the world's tobaccos. It is distinguished from all others by its wonderful mildness, its delicious mellow-sweet flavor and its distinctive aroma.

You get a lively smoke and a satisfying smoke when you "roll your own" with "Bull" Durham.

GERMANY'S LONG ARM.

Charleston American.

It seems the mystery of the Bremen is cleared up. Probably there never was a Bremen, or if there is she may be the supply ship for the German submarines that are swarming along our coast to paralyze shipping.

Why the U-boat warfare has not been carried into our waters long ago is something hard to explain. Probably the stand our government has taken regarding submarines, and Germany's painstaking care to avoid every excuse for possible complications with this country may have much to do with it.

Now, however, the German U-boats have come, and most likely they have come to stay, no matter if some of them be sent to the bottom. Germany's intention is clearly to frustrate the shipment of arms and munitions to her enemies, and if she can, succeed in it she certainly will save millions of lives and shorten the war. Even if shiploads of people should go down, because their captain perhaps attacks an undersea boat and brings death and destruction on his passengers and crew, the sacrifice of a few hundred lives would still in the end save millions across the sea.

That just such a thing may happen is very plausible. Already vessels with guns on board are being cleared from our ports, and if such vessels can succeed in hiring a few Americans to make the trip with them, the complication will become acute immediately, on account of the strange stand our government has taken, that Americans must be safe on any belligerent vessel.

In order to evade all such complications, there is only one sensible and logical way possible: The President should warn all Americans off belligerent vessels, the same as he warned all Americans off Mexican soil.

We may fret under the German blockade of our Atlantic coast, but the South especially has been fretting under the blockade instituted by French and English men of war ever since the beginning of the war, and what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. Our government can promote the interest of humanity very much by warning all Americans off belligerent vessels, and by refusing to clear armed merchant vessels. Unarmed merchant vessels have the security of their crews guaranteed, no one will be killed if they come off without resistance. Armed vessels, however, will undoubtedly be torpedoed without mercy because no submarine will or can subject itself to destruction.

If even at this late date we really mean to act in the interest of humanity, our government will adopt the plan which Secretary Bryan deemed the only just one, and the rejection of which made him rather resign his office than become a party to an injustice that is bound to draw us sooner or later into the vortex of war.

When a man is surrounded by man-killers he is not very choice in the selection of his weapons. So it is with a nation. Germany is hopelessly outnumbered and she is fighting for her existence. That she has resolved to adopt the submarine warfare at our very door proves how determined she is not to fall a prey to numbers and one sided rules. It incidentally shows how long her arm is if she chooses to stretch it forth in self-defence.

Character in Reading.

The Youth's Companion does more than entertain: It affords the reader a mental and moral tonic. Its stories are not only well told, contributed by the best writers of stories, but they contain the standards, reflect the ideals of the best homes. They do not throw a false glamour over the tawdry things of life. Rather do they depict the courageous, the healthful, the simple—the true life of the greater number with their adventures, their conflicts of temperament, their failures and successes. In 1917 The Companion will print 12 serials and story groups besides fully 250 single stories and sketches, all for $2.00. The Forecast for 1917, which we will send on request, tells all about the great features of the coming volume.

By special arrangement new subscribers for The Youth's Companion can have also McCall's Magazine for 1917—both publications for $2.10.

Our two-at-one price offer includes:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues of 1917.
2. All the remaining issues of 1916.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1917.
4. McCall's Magazine—12 fashion numbers of 1917.
5. One 15-cent McCall Dress Pattern—your choice from your first number of the magazine—if you send a 2-cent stamp with your selection.
